

Airman & Family Readiness

presents

no federal endorsement intended

Investing for Retirement

in association with

BBB Military Line®

Monday, February 22, 2010

9:30 - 11 a.m. or 1:30 - 3 p.m.

Gateway Club, Alamo Room

Investing for Retirement is a 60 to 90 minute free workshop developed by BBB Military Line under a grant from the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). This class will cover the basic knowledge every servicemember should have when considering retirement.

Topics will include:

- How much to secure in emergency savings before investing for retirement
- Benefits of investing in retirement
- Different types of retirement savings accounts available to military personnel including, IRAs and the Thrift Savings Plan
- Hidden costs of borrowing from a retirement account
- Things to consider before retirement

The class is appropriate for military personnel of any age, not just those within a few years of retirement. Spouses are invited to attend.

BBB Military Line is directed by Mrs. Holly Petraeus, who will be in attendance and available for questions after the presentation.

Contact Airman & Family Readiness at 671-3722 for more information.

About BBB Military Line

As a partner in the Department of Defense (DoD) Financial Readiness Campaign, BBB Military Line brings FREE BBB services to military members and their families to improve their financial literacy and protect them from scams.

